

Leonard D. Palmer

Leonard D. Palmer 41, of Rodman died Thursday, July 18, 2001 at Strong Memorial Hospital. Born May 24, 1960 in Adams, son of Richard Sr. and Carol Harmer Palmer. He lived in Parish for several years and graduated from Altmar-Parish-Williamstown High School in 1978 with honors. Following graduation he worked as a siding contractor and a mechanic. He married Brenda Parker on July 14, 1990, in Belleville United Methodist Church. The couple lived in Adams Center before moving to Rodman in 1993. Mr. Palmer had been a member of the Parish Volunteer Fire Department. He worked at Conway Beam Mack Company in Watertown. Survivors: his wife, the former Brenda Parker; two stepsons, Nathan and Christopher Gould both of Rodman; a stepdaughter, Amanda Gould of Rodman; his mother and stepfather, Carol and Darwyn Cook Sr. of Parish; his stepmother Katherine Palmer of Ellisburg; three brothers, Richard Jr. of Parish, Edmund of Adams Center, and John of Clay; a half-brother Darwyn Cook Jr. of Alfred; two half-sisters, Deborah Wheeler of Geneseo, and Sandra Umstead of Redwood; two stepbrothers, Thomas Palmer of Houston, Texas and Craig Palmer of Adams Center; three stepsisters, Becky Sidmore of Bellville, Mary Jo McGrath and Kati Palmer both of Pulaski.

