

Charles F. "Chip" Corbett

Charles F. "Chip" Corbett October 28, 2011 On October 28, 2011, Charles F. "Chip" Corbett, 67, life resident of Scriba, departed to finally see the face of God and be welcomed into the arms of his wife for their final journey together. Barbara was able to leave on this adventure in October of 2009, but due to earthly circumstances, Chip had to remain here until today. During their time together here, they were fortunate to be able to enjoy much of our great country by motor home and motorcycle. Together for almost 50 years, they were to be blessed with four children, Valerie (Joe) Raffa, Scott (Peggy) Corbett, Joe (Tammy) Corbett and Ginny (Warren) Vandish, who presented them with 11 grandchildren; and four (soon to be six) great-grandchildren. Also surviving are a sister, Judy (Doug) Smith, and a very special friend, Patricia Whaley. Chip was the proprietor of Chip's Collision for 45 years. During this period, he was able to help preserve several vintage cars and motorcycles for future generations as well as maintaining more modern vehicles. In earlier years he was also a private pilot. Although he enjoyed many things in life, his family brought him the most satisfaction. He considered himself a "professional grandfather" and tried to set an example for all the grandkids. He and Barbara will be patiently waiting for all their family to be reunited in Heaven.
