

Rea Maleya Peace

Rea Maleya Peace, of Corning, New York, passed away Wednesday, September 9, 2015 at Corning Hospital after a courageous battle with cancer. Born October 8, 1969, in Manilla, the Philippines, she was the daughter of the late Lydia Macalisang. Having grown up in Huntington Beach, California, Rea came to Olean to manage the former nightclub, The Wave. She recently was employed by The ReHAbilitation Center of Olean. She is survived by two sons, Dillion Yarka of Painted Post and Ethan Peace of Olean; her step-parents, Skip and Noi Spencer of Huntington Beach; her sister, Erika (Brian) Parkis of Syracuse; and several nieces and nephews.