

William H. “Wild Bill” Crosbie

William H. “Wild Bill” Crosbie of Watertown, New York died October 30, 2004 at the age of 46. He had been ill and passed at home. Born April 5, 1958, in Watertown the son of William and Frances Kalk Crosbie. He was the proud father of his daughter Halley. He worked for 10 years at the Jefferson County Highway Department as a mechanic and welder and at the time of his death was working for Jeff Dorr's Garage in Limerick, New York. He loved and lived the biker lifestyle. He not only loved to ride motorcycles but also loved to work on them as well. He was the “go to” motorcycle mechanic for all his friends working in his home garage after hours and then in partnership with B&M Cycle, Dexter, New York. He was a crazy, fun-loving guy, always looking for laughs, life of the party, and is missed by all who knew and loved him.
